[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 23.

The news of the sinking of H. B. M. ship Victoria caused a profound sensation at the Navy Department here. No marine disaster accompanied by such heavy loss of life has been known in this country for many years, the nearest in kind probably being the loss of the United States ship Huron off Nag's Head about fifteen years ago. People who saw the Blake, flagship of the British squadron at the naval review, thought that she was a great ship, but she was of secondary importance when compared with the ill-fated Victoria, which has just gone down, for while the Blake was a large armored cruiser the Victoria was a full-fledged battleship nearly 1600 tons larger than the Blake. The Victoria was a typical fighting machine, as unlike the ordinary conception of a ship as possible. She was rather low in the water, having 11 feet freeboard and the forward deck being cleared to give sweep to the great turret guns, she had something of the appearance of a monitor forward. Aft of her turret she carried a plain superstructure, heavily protected by compound armor, battery, and on the top and rear of this superstructure was the 10-inch gun in its barbette. Sir George Tryon, the vice admiral, who went down in the Victoria, is one of the best known British naval officers. The Victoria in her construction embodied every safeguard known up to the present date if her completion for the protection of the life of her officers and crew. She was a compartment ship and was supposed to be unsinkable in any ordinary collision. The Camperdown, which dealt this fatal blow, was about the same size as the Victoria, and the ship never has been built that would withstand the impact of ten thousand tons of steel moving at any ordinary speed.

The President to-day made the following appointments: To be collectors of internal revenue, William H. Doyle, for the first district of Pennsylvania; Richard B. Morris, for the district of Kansas. Harry A. McNeely to be a collector of customs for the district of Saco. Comptroller Eckels has been officially informed of the failure yesterday of the following national banks: The First National Bank of Kendallville, Indiana, the First National Bank of Santa Ana, California, and the First National Bank of Whatecom, Washington. Secretary Lamont this morning issued an order dissolving the military court of inquiry ordered in connection with the Ford's Theatre disaster and will leave the civil authorities to deal with the case.

Official changes in the Treasury Department were announced to-day as follows: Appointments—John Johnson of Pennsylvania, special inspector of customs; John W. Anderson of New York, inspector of customs; L. W. Shinn of Utah, special inspector of customs; North Carolina, chief of division 1st auditor's office. Resigned—Hiram F. Devol, collector of internal revenue 6th district of Missouri. Removed—A. C. Emerson, special inspector of customs, Ogden, Utah. Resignation called for—A. J. Whitaker of Illinois, deputy fourth auditor. In the Interior Department: Julian L. Bowdrie of Arizona, and Asa Bodkins of Ky., have been appointed examiners of Chippewa Indian Lands in Minnesota, vice Wm. J. Pemberton, and Edwin R. Peirce, resigned; Prof. W. J. McGee of Iowa, a geologist in the geological survey has resigned. In the Postoffice Department, T. Q. Munce of Louisiana, has been appointed chief of the stamp division, Postoffice Department, vice E. B. George, resigned.

One hundred and twenty-seven fourth class postmasters were appointed to-day, of whom sixty-seven will fill the places of removed republicans. The changes in Virginia were as follows: Arbutus, Grayson county, T. J. Jennings appointed postmaster, vice M. C. Hampton, resigned; Blackstone, Nottingham county, I. O. Epes, vice A. B. Jones, removed; Burnsville, Bath county, A. J. Hevener, vice H. E. Burns, resigned; Elliston, Montgomery county, A. J. Deyerle, vice J. R. Purdie, resigned; Hume, Fauquier county, R. T. Moore, vice J. B. Pearson, removed; North River, Rockingham county, T. J. Johnson, vice W. H. Chapman, removed; Springman, Fairfax county, M. Springman, vice P. L. Evans, resigned; J. G. Jernigan, Accomac county, J. G. Jernigan, vice T. A. Richards, resigned; Waterford, Loudoun county, H. C. Bennett, vice H. J. Burnham, removed.

Comptroller Maxwell appointed another republican as receiver of a broken national bank this morning. He says he supposes the democratic newspapers will go for him for appointing republicans to such places—this makes the third one—but that he can stand the pressure. A gentleman who had a talk with the Secretary of Agriculture yesterday in reference to the position Assistant Secretary of the Agricultural Department, says Mr. Morton told him he thought the place ought to go to a cotton State, and that if an eligible man from such a State were presented he would recommend him to the President. He said in addition that the appointee should not only be a man of executive ability but a scientific as well as practical agriculturist.

Intelligence was received here to-day of the death of Representative Mutchler of Pennsylvania, a democrat. A personal friend of a member of the Cabinet asked him yesterday if a certain applicant for a place in his department would be appointed or not. The Secretary replied to the effect that he did not know and that the President made the appointments. This only substantiates what has been said from the first, that the members of the Cabinet have little or nothing to do with the appointment of their subordinates. A Virginian who has been appointed to an office in one of the departments here, and whose official duties will commence on the 1st proximo, being asked this morning if he would qualify on that day, replied that no possible condition of the weather would prevent him from doing so.

People from all the surrounding Virginia counties here to-day report harvesting as in active progress, and the crop as much better than usual, though the prospect for a good price is anything else than favorable. Among the Virginians here to-day is Mr. Tris Daniel of Richmond, who is an applicant for the Colon consulate. Congressmen Wise left here yesterday and his colleague, Mr. Swanson, this morning, for their respective homes. The only member of the Virginia delegation in the city to-day is Senator Hunter.

THE PALE WHITE LIGHT OF DEATH.—Those who have admired the phosphorescent glow of certain species of crustacea will be interested to learn that a startling discovery respecting it has been made. Formerly it was supposed that such creatures emitted the light of their own accord, and that they used it in a variety of ways. It is now known that the light is a disease as deadly to the infected individuals as cobra poisoning is to the human species. M. Girard has traced phosphorescent light in tatarus and other crustaceans to exceedingly minute bacteria in the muscles. On inoculating healthy specimens with glowing bacteria, the same luminous appearance was transmitted. He also notes that the disease runs a regular course, and that those infected die within four days, the phosphorescence lasting but a short while after death.—St. Louis Republic.

He had been cutting wheat all day Tuesday and at night left the machine set up ready to resume work. While hitching the horse Wednesday morning he became frightened and started off throwing Mr. Carneal down, and the machine passed over his body, the blades cutting him as described. Physicians were summoned and it is thought he will survive.

A SERENADE TO SENATOR LITTLE.—Senator W. A. Little, after delivering his address at the Episcopal High School on Monday night, went over to Alexandria to spend the night so as to catch the early train for Stafford County. He was assigned a room adjoining a yard in which there were three stall-walked chickens. At one o'clock a solitary cock was heard which seemed the signal for a general chorus. From that time until the train left the serenade was continued all along the line. Senator Little offered to buy from the watchman the leading crower, but when the full orchestra of some hundred roosters' voices took up the refrain he declared the proposition off and quietly submitted. The Senator says Alexandria is O. K. on the rooster question, and with weary steps and heavy eyelids he took the early train for court.

The serenade was suggested, that the serenade was in honor of the Senator's coming election as Attorney General.—Fredericksburg Lance.

Terrible Marine Disaster.

LONDON, June 23.—A most terrible calamity has befallen the British battleship Victoria, flagship of the Mediterranean squadron, and hundreds of lives have been lost. The Victoria, which flew the flag of Vice-Admiral Sir George Tryon, K. C. B., was run into off Tripoli by the British battleship Camperdown, also belonging to the Mediterranean squadron. The Victoria had an enormous hole made in her side through which the water poured in torrents, and before those on board of her could lose the small boats she went to the bottom, carrying down with her nearly all on board. Some of the officers and crew managed to get out of the suction caused by the sinking vessel and were rescued. Among those lost is Vice-Admiral Tryon. Not less than four hundred and thirty of the officers and crew of the Victoria went down with the ship which sank in fifteen minutes in eighteen fathoms of water. She lies bottom upmost. Twenty-one officers were drowned. Two hundred and eighty-eight men were saved. The injury to the Camperdown is serious and will necessitate her going in dock for repairs. The Victoria was a twin-screw battleship of 10,470 tons and 14,000 horse-power. She mounted 15 guns, and her complement of officers and crew was 718 men. The Camperdown is also a first class twin screw battleship.

The scene of the calamity was near Tripoli, a seaport town fifty miles northeast of Beyrout, Syria, and a comparatively short distance from the island of Cyprus. The news of the calamity has caused the most intense excitement among all classes of the population. The Admiralty office is besieged by relatives and friends of the officers and crew, seeking details of the disaster. The throngs are so dense that the police were summoned to restrain the crowd.

Arrest of a Murderer.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 23.—Some time ago John Tarpey, a prominent citizen of Haughville, a suburb of Indianapolis, was killed by a burglar. The crime was committed while the burglar was in the act of robbing a saloon. Tarpey, in company with the town officers, went into the saloon at midnight and caught the man in the act of robbing the drawer. To effect his escape he shot Tarpey. As no trace of the murderer could be secured the community settled in its opinion that Tarpey's companions had killed him and conceived the burglar story to clear themselves. A week ago two local detectives, arrested Leon Henderson for burglary. In the fight Henderson was shot in the leg. He was taken to the city hospital and yesterday Mary Rafferty, of Haughville, told the superintendent of police that Henderson was Tarpey's murderer. She said he had come to her house on the night of the murder and had told her all about it. Henderson at first denied the story, but last night made a complete confession to Superintendent Colbert. It tallies with the story told by the Haughville town officers. After the confession Henderson was removed to the police station, as rumors of a lynching were in the air. Henderson is a desperate man, having served several terms in prison.

Death of a Congressman.

EASTON, Pa., June 23.—William Mutchler, of this city, democratic member of Congress from the 8th Pennsylvania district, died suddenly of heart disease this morning. He had been in poor health of late and was taken ill at a Pike county fishing resort three weeks ago with heart trouble. He recovered, came home and had been able to be out but still suffered from his stomach and heart. The deceased leaves a widow and one son, Howard Mutchler, proprietor of the Easton Express and the Northampton Democrat. William Mutchler was born in this (Northampton) county December 31, 1831, and was therefore in his 62nd year. He was a lawyer by profession. In 1867 President Johnson appointed him assessor of internal revenue which office he held two years. He was chairman of the democratic State committee in 1869-70 and was a member of the forty-fourth, forty-seventh, forty-eighth, fifty-first and fifty-second congresses. He was re-elected to the fifty-third congress last fall by a large majority.

Cape Cod Canal.

BOSTON, June 23.—What may be regarded as the final step in the Cape Cod canal was taken yesterday when the business of the Old Colony and Interior Construction Co., which has been chartered for the express purpose of building the canal, was held and an organization effected. J. S. Anthony was elected president. The new company is capitalized at $7,500,000, divided into shares of $100. Some $4,000,000 has already been pledged by Boston and New York bankers. The canal will begin at some convenient point in Buzzards' Bay and run through the towns of Bourne and Sandwich to a point in Barnstable Bay. It will have a depth of not less than 23 feet at mean low water.

Foreign News.

BERLIN, June 23.—The socialists of Lubbeck made a demonstration last night that soon degenerated into a riot. On Breitestrasse they wrecked a number of shop fronts with stones and clubs. The police charged the mob, which fled without making much resistance. A large number of the rioters were arrested. The separated groups soon consolidated and attacked the city hall and houses occupied by liberal leaders, doing considerable damage before the police could drive them off.

A Volcano in Utah.

GREEN RIVER, Utah, June 23.—An immense column of smoke has been observed for several days rising a few miles north of Thompson's Springs station, on the Rio Grande Western railway. C. H. Hallett, a well-known mining man, returned from that section yesterday and says it is caused by a volcano that has just burst forth. Owing to the smoke the party was unable to approach closer than a quarter of a mile but powerful field glasses showed a break in the formation through which the sulphur flames were pouring.

Mysterious Death of a Banker.

RICHMOND, Va., June 23.—The dead body of Charles H. Conrad, a prominent banker and tobaccoist of Danville, was found on the track of the Richmond and Danville Railroad near Amelia Court House this morning. He is supposed to have fallen or been thrown from the train. He left Danville after midnight and was on his way to Richmond.

Frederick Stevenson, a Swede, employed as a farm laborer at Wychoff, N. J., was committed to jail yesterday on a charge of having criminally assaulted 12-year-old Lizzie Halstead. The child is now in a hospital at Paterson, and her condition is said to be critical. She is an orphan.

Caleb Wright, a negro preacher on the chain gang at Rome, Ga., committed suicide by jumping into the river yesterday. He was sentenced for wife beating and had preached to the convicts several times. It is believed he committed suicide on account of learning of his wife's faithlessness.

Twelve business houses and three dwelling houses, about one-third of the town of Leonardville, Kan., were wiped out by fire yesterday afternoon. Loss $30,000. Those who defeated the proposition to bond the town for $5,000 for water works a few years ago, were the only ones who lost by the fire.

On June 3d R. E. Tallon, a contractor of Beaver, Pa., left ostensibly to visit the World's Fair. It is now alleged that he has taken all the firm's cash that he could collect, and the absence of Mrs. Denmore, a portly widow and a sister of his partner, is also significantly commented upon. Tallon left a wife and six children. He is 44 years of age and weighs about 220 pounds.

At an early hour this morning near Guffey station, Pa., Andy Muldoon, an oil well shooter, was on his way to Guffey to shoot a well. He had two hundred quarts of glycerine in his wagon, and while coming down a steep hill, a wheel struck a large stone and the wagon was overturned. Nothing was found of Muldoon or the horses but a few small pieces of flesh scattered through the woods. The shock was felt for 15 miles around and people in the vicinity were severely shocked.

When the Rock Island west bound train, which left St. Joseph, Mo., at 7:45 last night, reached Virginia, Neb., a man stepped up to the door of the express car and asked United States Express messenger Spear to be allowed to step into the car and write a note. Spear consented. When the train began to move out Spear looked into the muzzle of a revolver in the stranger's hand. Keeping the revolver levelled with one hand, the stranger with the other threw a rope around Spear's neck, and then bound him hand and foot. Searching the messenger he found the key to the small safe which he opened and from which he secured $350. When the train slowed up the robber made his escape.

The Dog Catchers.

The good people of the city, who are acquainted with the undersigned, are aware of the fact that he is not a croaker, but he claims the right, and has the nerve to criticize the actions and conduct of our paid servants. His attention has been called to a local in the GAZETTE, wherein the readers are informed that the dog catchers made a nocturnal raid on Growler and his descendants who happened to be out without the inhuman jaw bandage attached, acting the part of scavengers, by consuming such decaying vegetables and meats that the board of health had overlooked during the day. We like strategy, it sounds military, and the author of strategy that succeeds can be termed a genius. But I am informed that the result of the brilliant strategic movement foots up to the capture of four lean, aged, mangy, de-lapidated curs, of imperfect vision, but good scent, one having only three legs, one a bob-tail, one a big "yaller" dog with the hair scalded off one side and back, and the last who walked by faith and not by light; total, four dogs or fractions captured, cost of strategy and execution $5.38 or $1.34 per dog, or part of a dog. How long will the tax payer submit?

All the pets of sound mind and vision, whose owners had relieved temporarily of the jaw clincher, anticipated the strategic movement and remained on the home square where a successful retreat was possible. The question that requires an answer is, "Wherein lies the fault?" In the strategy, or in the execution? T. V. R.

A VIRGINIA ICE MINE.—In the north side of Stone mountain, six miles from the mouth of Stony creek, in Scott county, has been discovered a natural ice-house on a grand scale. One of the old settlers first discovered it about 1880, but owing to the fact that the land on which it was situated could not be bought, he refused to tell its whereabouts, and would only take ice from it in case of sickness. He died without revealing the secret to even his own family, and but for a party of "Seng" diggers entering the region, it might have remained a secret for generations, as it is situated in an unfrequented part of the mountain. The ice was only protected from the rays of the sun by a thick growth of moss resembling a texture, and like moss that can be seen dangling from the oaks of Louisiana and Texas. Its formation was after the fashion of a coal vein, being a few inches thick in some places, while several feet in others. The formation indicates that it had been spread over the surface in a liquid state and then congealed. By what process it freed from this stage of investigation. Some think that the ice formed in the winter, and has been protected since by a dense growth of moss which covers it, while the more plausible theory is that beneath the bed is situated a great natural laboratory whose function is a formation of ether, and the process of freezing goes steadily on through the heat as well as the cold. The growth of moss resembles the hanging moss around Hudson bay, and indicates a frigid temperature. The bed covers one acre.

COWS MILKED BY FISH.—The discovery at New Hope, Pa., that a German carp drinks milk has averted what threatened to be wholesale suits for theft. Michael Tierman, for several months, or ever since the weather grew warm, has noticed that his blooded cows return from their luxuriant pastures with full stomachs and empty udders. There was a suspicion that the cows had been milked by families who reside in the neighborhood. This thing continued, and Mr. Tierman's dairy product reached zero. He watched his cows, but could not discover the milk robbers. Yesterday he had a startling revelation. While standing by the mill race which runs through his farm, he saw his favorite cow enjoying herself in the water which touched her body. After a prolonged bath, the bovine emerged from the stream. Clinging to the animal's udder was a carp that weighed about 15 pounds. It had drunk every ounce of the cow's milk. Mr. Tierman says that the cows have regularly gone to the mill race to keep cool, and the fish have as diligently extracted their milk.

BALD EAGLE SHOT IN SHENANDOAH. One day last week, Mr. Frank Kagey shot and killed a bald eagle on the farm of his father, Mr. A. J. Kagey, about two miles northwest of Mt. Jackson, Va. The eagle measured 7 feet from tip to tip of wings and 23 feet from beak to tip of tail. Bald eagles are to be found in all countries of the world, and some seven or eight species are found in Europe. In North America, however, it is found only in Greenland, being elsewhere replaced by the white-headed or bald eagle, the chosen emblem of the United States.—Shenandoah Valley.

In olden times in New England it was supposed that the first unmarried person of the other sex whom one met on St. Valentine's morning while out walking was a destined wife or a destined husband.

In Washington yesterday the grand jury took up the Ford's Theatre calamity case against Col. T. C. Ainsworth and others, and examined a number of technical witnesses as to the cause of the disaster.

MONETARY AND COMMERCIAL.

Business is quiet and prices of wheat, provisions, &c., all have a downward tendency on account of the scarcity of money of which scarcity the complaint is growing more general. In New York yesterday money on call was active, ranging from 6 to 15, last loan at 8 and closing offered at 8. Prime mercantile paper 6 1/2 per cent. The Baltimore money market continues very tight, but banks have continued to discount the commercial paper of customers at the prevailing rates of 6 per cent. and declined to lend outside parties. Local shares are quiet with little doing.

NEW YORK, June 23.—Money on call is stringent at 7 1/2 per cent. Prime mercantile paper 6 1/2 per cent. Government bonds have been steady. State bonds have been dull. Railroad bonds have been lower. The stock market has been dull with merely fractional changes in quotations. At noon the market was rather weak in tone.
